About the Artist:

I'm an artist living Silver Spring, MD. My specialty is lightweight lace jewelry. The process is called tatting which is a traditional form of knotted lace. Everything is handmade here in the USA by me. My recent awards include a Champion ribbon for a tatted dollhouse miniature doily at the Montgomery County Fair, MD, in August 2013.

My first fundraiser was for my daughter's school – Fairland Elementary. I made a collection of items in the school colors. If you would like me to offer a collection in your organization's or school's colors, please let me know. I love to have a specific focus.

I look forward to a successful fundraising campaign, especially in view of the upcoming holiday season, although this offer will continue through the end of the school year.

Thank you,
